INQUEST ON NULK'S BODY

Shows Robbery the Motive But Reveals no Culprit.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Dec. 21.-(Special.) -Notwithstanding the deed was commit ted in broad daylight and within a mile of the city limits, the murder of old man Nulk remains as deep a mystery as though shrouded in impenetrable, Stygian binckness. The last seen of the old man alive was yesterday afternoon, when he Grove past the brickyard west of town and was recognized and spoken to by two witnesses who were in charge of a deputy United States marshal It was Not more than half an hour later that his team was discovered trefting along the bighway without a driver and in the bottom of the wagon his crushed and batfered head, covered with a mackintosth, was the body of John Nuik.

About 4 o'clock W. J. Pickard, a furmer city, accompanied by his fared man, Mart Horn, were coming to the city with a load of wheat and had reached a point about three miles from the city northwest, when they saw approaching from the east a wagon and team trotting with to driver. Mr. Pickard alighted from his wagon to stop the team. At the same time James Chester can from his home the same purpose. The team was caught and in the back of the wagon lay a man with a mackintosh wrapped about | pecially interesting artles were horrified to find a man dead, his head gapping with terrible wounds and his hair matted in blood hat soaked the floor of the wagon.
